INPATIENT UNITS (IPUs)

Our Inpatient Units at Selly Park and Erdington are available for patients needing intensive symptom management, emotional or social crisis support, or care for the last days of life.

Where someone chooses to be at home for their final days, this team works alongside GPs and district nurses to make sure they are as comfortable as they can be.

Being in the hospice was so beneficial for Jamie as he had 24-hour round-the-clock care. At the hospice, staff made sure he was always comfortable and never in pain. The care he received was nothing short of exceptional, and words will never be enough to express my gratitude.

The impact of our corporate supporters

CASE STUDY

Accountancy firm Ormerod Rutter raised an incredible £3,058 from a charity football match in memory of their colleague Will Kwok.

Will had been diagnosed with cancer in December 2023, yet he still remained focused on his work. He was three exams away from receiving his ACCA accounting qualification, and stayed working until just after Christmas. He sadly died in February 2024, aged 32.

The football match was a fitting tribute to Will, who was passionate about the sport, being the only player with a 100% win rate in Ormerod Rutter's weekly 11-a-side games. Over 180 people came to watch the game, held at Bromsgrove Sporting FC.

Colleague Rachel Smith described Will as "one of the most respectful people" she'd ever met, adding: "He just would do anything for anybody, which is why we got such a good response to the fundraiser."

The team have plans to make it an annual tradition - Rachel said how the experience "opened our eyes to how important raising money is for things like hospices who need it directly". Ormerod Rutter offers matched funding for charities, which boosted the fantastic total raised.

“He just would do anything for anybody, which is why we got such a good response to the fundraiser.

167 individual corporate volunteers during the year.

Nine bereavement training sessions delivered to 97 people.

Corporate support

Local businesses play a vital part in the care we can provide, through corporate fundraising, staff volunteering, Payroll Giving and partnership opportunities.

WORKPLACE FUNDRAISERS

We can help you bring your workplace fundraiser to life to raise vital funds for the hospice. We'll help you every step of the way, from shaping your ideas to sharing fresh, creative ways to engage your colleagues and clients.

PARTNERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

We can create a bespoke sponsorship package that reflects your values, meets your business goals, and connects you with a wider audience. You'll not only raise your company profile across the city, you will also leave a legacy of compassion and care, all while achieving your marketing and PR objectives.

CORPORATE VOLUNTEERING

Volunteering and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) days are so valuable for your team, your community and the causes you care about. From tending our gardens or taking over one of our shops for the day to helping run activities in our Living Well Centres or lending a hand with event preparations, there are so many ways to get involved and see the impact you're making first hand.

PAYROLL GIVING

Payroll Giving is an easy, tax-efficient way to support Birmingham Hospice. For employees, donations come straight from your salary before tax, meaning your gift goes further at no extra cost. For employers, setting up a scheme is quick and simple, showing your commitment to giving back while empowering your team to make a lasting difference.

EVENTS

Whether you join in on your own or get a team from work together, our fundraising events and activities are a powerful way to make a difference. Every step you take, every cake you bake and every challenge you conquer helps ensure more local people living with a terminal diagnosis can receive the expert, compassionate end of life care they so urgently need.

CORPORATE BEREAVEMENT AWARENESS TRAINING

We are keen to help build compassionate workplaces across the city to support employees who are living with a terminal diagnosis, caring for someone with a life-limiting condition, or dealing with loss and grief. Our corporate bereavement awareness training will give you an introduction into some of the theories of bereavement and grief, to help you understand any emotions that people who are dealing with a loss may be feeling.

I want to say a huge thank you to every single person who supported Birmingham Hospice during 2024-25. Whether you donated, took part in one of our events, organised your own fundraiser, or partnered with us through your business - your generosity means the world to us.

We're also incredibly grateful to our amazing volunteers from across all departments. Your time, energy and commitment have enabled us to continue delivering our vital services - from supporting patients and families, to helping in our shops, events, offices and more. We simply couldn't do what we do without you.

Because of your support, we've been able to provide vital care and comfort for people during the most difficult times, and they've not been left to face terminal illness alone.

With no charge to our patients or their families, and a need to raise £7.2 million this year, we simply couldn't do it without you. As we look ahead, your continued support will be more important than ever.

If you think you can help, or would like to get involved, we'd love to hear from you. You can find all the ways to get in touch on the next page.

From the bottom of our hearts - thank you.

Lucy Watkins, Income Generation Director
